

SNAPSHOT REPORT

TEFL JOBS MARKET

Spring 2020

INTRODUCTION

Here at LoveTEFL we love linking up brilliant TEFL teachers with great TEFL employers.

To make it even simpler for you to find your perfect TEFL job, we analyse the facts and figures from our LoveTEFL jobs board to give you super-up-to-date information about which countries have positions advertised right now, what types of jobs are out there, how much you might get paid and the qualifications you need.

The information in this snapshot review is taken from adverts placed on the LoveTEFL jobs board between 1 February and 30 March 2020.

COVID-19 UPDATE

We know that the current outbreak of coronavirus has had a huge impact on the plans of TEFL teachers across the world.

We have included classroom-based positions in this update, as employers and agencies are continuing to advertise positions – presumably in the expectation that they will need TEFL teachers to deliver face-to-face lessons in-country once the pandemic has passed. However, do check start dates are appropriate before making any firm plans.

On a positive note, there's been a surge in demand for online English teachers while physical classroom doors are temporarily closed. In fact, online positions advertised on the LoveTEFL website increased by a whopping 54% from February to March 2020 – so there's definitely TEFL work out there, if you want it.

WHERE ARE THE TEFL JOBS?

Over 7,000 teaching positions were advertised on LoveTEFL during February and March 2020. This includes almost 2,000 online teaching positions – so there are definitely opportunities out there to keep teaching and earning, even while your travel is restricted.

If you're planning ahead to a time when you can teach and travel once more, here are the 26 countries where employers advertised for paid teaching positions on LoveTEFL during the past two months. We have listed them in order based on the number of positions were advertised (i.e. the higher up the list, the more jobs that were advertised).
